

Rules of Use for the Virtual Reading Room in UCISpace @ the Libraries

All digital content in UCISpace @ the Libraries is made publicly available for use in research, teaching, and private study. For these purposes, you may reproduce a single copy (print or download) of materials from this website without prior permission. Exceptions are noted.

All items may be protected by the U.S. Copyright Law (Title 17). Usage of some items may also be subject to additional restrictions imposed by the copyright owner and/or the repository. Thus transmission or reproduction of more than a single research or teaching copy or a protected item requires the permission of the copyright owner.

The nature of historical archival and manuscript collections often makes it difficult to determine the copyright status of an item. Whenever possible, we provide available information about copyright owners and any other restrictions as part of the description of each item. If a copyright owner is indicated, it is the user's responsibility to obtain permission prior to any publication (including on the Internet) of that item.

The UCI Libraries provide this information as a service to aid users in determining the copyright status of an item. Ultimately, however, it is the user's responsibility to use an item according to the terms governing its use.

We welcome contact from any copyright owner who is not properly identified so that appropriate information may be provided to users in the future.
